NEW TROUBLE LOOMS OVER RENT CONTROL

Extension of Six Months
Proposed by Tobey in Contrast to Proposal
By Pres. Truman

MAY TIGHTEN RULES

BULLETIN
Washington, March 14—(P)—Senate Republican leaders threw their weight today behind efforts to reach a compromise in the anti-filibuster fight. Chairman Taft (Ohio) said the GOP policy committee took no formal vote but decided to support peace talks. The committee voted informally after hearing a report from Minority Floor Leader Wherry (Nebr.). Wherry attended a week-end meeting of southern Democrats and administration leaders in an effort to reach agreement on a proposed change in senate debating rules.

Washington, March 14—(P)—New trouble piled up in congress today in front of President Truman's request to strengthen rent controls and other parts of his 1949 program. With present rent controls due to expire March 31—just 17 days away—and the senate still troubled with a filibuster, Senator Tobey (R-ME) raised a threat.

Tobey, former banking committee chairman and past supporter of rent controls, told a reporter he favors an extension for only six months to enable individual states to take over this job if they desire.

That would be in contrast with Mr. Truman's plan for a two-year extension, or the 15-month continuation tentatively voted by the house.

Tobey and a number of other senators and representatives believe the time has come for cutting off the frequent extensions of wartime rent controls.

"Some 40 state legislatures will be meeting in the next six months," he said. "This would put them in a position to take action if they wish."

Tobey's proposal came as a senate banking subcommittee met behind closed doors today to begin drafting a rent bill under the chairmanship of Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.).

Both Sparkman and Chairman Maybank (S.C.) of the full banking committee are among southerners battling the proposed tightening of senate rules. They say they cannot push the rent measure as long as the filibuster-right issue is before the senate.

Also stacked up in the senate are these administration bills:

1. A house-passed three-year extension of the tariff-cutting reciprocal trade powers asked by Mr. Truman.
2. A long-range housing program including slum clearance, subsidized low-rent public housing and other features urged by the president.
3. The 15-month extension of the foreign aid program (due to expire in three weeks) with a $5,580,000,000 authorization asked by the president.
4. Repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor act and substitution of an administration measure.

Meanwhile house Democratic leaders rallied their members for final action Tuesday on the 15-month rent control extension containing part of the administration's requests.

Nearly a dozen other senate committees and subcommittees called forenoon sessions today.

A closed session of the interior committee had a chance to approve the nomination of James Boyd, to be director of the Bureau of Mines. Boyd's nomination is one of the reasons cited by John L. Lewis for calling his union coal miners out for two weeks, starting today.

House committees also were busy with the foreign aid bill before the foreign affairs group, and repeal of the Taft-Hartley act before the labor committee.

Revenue Bureau Reminds Of Deadline For Filing Returns

Washington, March 14—(P)—Tomorrow midnight is the deadline to file 1948 income tax returns and penalties await those who delay beyond that time.

Revenue Bureau officials said today a heavy proportion of the 55,000,000 obligated to make returns already have done so—under lure of prospective refunds—but a considerable number have yet to do so.

Every citizen or resident with income of over $600 in 1948 must file a return on time or face penalties ranging up to 25 percent of the tax for delay.

Some of them also must file estimates on their 1949 income tax and begin paying it in quarterly installments. Two classes of people

State Senate Braces Itself For A Democratic Filibuster Against Gasoline Tax Bill

Harrisburg, March 14—(P)—The question of holding up action on the closely contested gasoline tax bill for a public hearing was kicked back and forth in the senate today—without immediate decision.

Sen. William J. Lane (D-Wash.) and other Democratic senators have threatened a filibuster unless a hearing is granted on the measure raising the state's gasoline tax one cent a gallon to five cents.

On the possibility a filibuster may develop on that and other bills in Gov. James H. Duff's $438,000,000 tax program, the Republican majority called the senate into session six and a half hours ahead of the usual time.

Battle Against Crime In The Quaker City

Philadelphia, March 14—(P)—Philadelphia police squared away today for an all-out battle against crime while a manhunt sought the city for the slayer of two liquor store employees.

Director of Public Safety Samuel H. Rosenberg met with high police officials and announced "I fully realize the seriousness in Philadelphia."

The newly appointed director said he had discussed with Police Superintendent Howard P. Sutton details of "a well considered program for the police department."

"I wish to serve warning on all concerned that I am going through with this program x x x and that nobody is going to stop me," Rosenberg warned.

The battle against crime already is in full swing.

More than 900 policemen pressed a door-to-door search in a densely populated two square mile area for a short, squat man who shot to death two state liquor store employees and critically wounded a third Saturday.

Assistant Superintendent of Police George F. Richardson said the posse rounded up "hundreds of men generally meeting the description of the slayer." All were questioned extensively, but no arrests were made.

Police said the negro went berserk when he was foiled in a robbery attempt. Firing bullet after bullet in the crowded store, he killed the store manager, Herman (Turn to Page Two)

The Democratic filibuster, if it develops, is somewhat different from the talkathon in congress over changes in the senate rules. In congress, it is the filibustering senators themselves that do the talking. But in the state senate those filibustering may sit back in their desks and let the clerks do the talking—or reading.

The Democrats' filibuster device merely calls for enforcement of a constitutional rule that all bills shall be read "at length" before (Turn to Page Two)

Proposed Postal Rate Hike Is Protested By Publishers

Washington, March 14—(P)—The American Newspaper Publishers Association said today proposed postal rate increases "would drive every newspaper from the mails." It added that proposed new regulations could permit "a fanatical bureaucracy" to determine the content of newspapers.

The ANPA's views were outlined in statements prepared for presentation to the house postoffice committee. The statements were by Josh L. Horne, publisher of the Rocky Mount, N. C., Telegram and chairman of the ANPA postal committee, and Elisha Hanson, ANPA general counsel.

The committee is considering rate increases proposed by the Postoffice Department which would fall heavily on second class mail used by publishers. The ANPA represents approximately 800 newspaper publishers having more than 90 per cent of the nation's total daily and Sunday circulation.

Horne and Hanson emphasized that the present second-class mail structure does not constitute a subsidy to publishers. On the contrary, they said, the publishers are being required to pay for something they do not get.

The nation's publishers, Horne said, do not oppose "proper charges for services actually rendered" but are opposed to paying for something they don't get.

Nowhere in the Postoffice Department's recommendation, Horne said, "is there any recognition of the fact that the department must improve its service if it is to increase its revenues."

"All that it proposes on second class mail is an astronomical increase (estimated at 400 per cent) in rates and a control, for rate making purposes, over the content of publications."

Horne said departmental figures indicate that the department "does not know within a range of $3,000,000 what its receipts were for the year ending June 30, 1948 or within a range of $10,000,000 what its expenditures were on second class mails."

WESTMINSTER HAS A NEW PRESIDENT

New Wilmington, March 14—(P)—The Rev. Will W. Orr of Des Moines, Iowa, is the new president of Westminster College.

The new president succeeds Acting President John Orr, who filled the position for two years. The latter, a relation of the new president, is a long time faculty member at Westminster. He will continue to serve in the Bible department.

Dr. J. M. Ferguson, chairman of the board of trustees, said the new president "is a man who should inspire us."

Dr. Will Orr, 44, is a native of North Carolina. He now is pastor of the Westminster United Presbyterian church at Des Moines, a post he had held 10 years.

PROBE INTO WIRETAPPING PLOT OPENS

Wealthy Civic Reformer
Tells of Attempt to Get Him to "Lay Off" His Bitter Campaign

CHARGES ARE DENIED

BULLETIN
New York, March 14—(P)—Kenneth Ryan, former city detective sought as a key figure in a sensational wiretapping plot against high city officials, surrendered today.

Ryan, object of a widespread police search since his escape from City Hall last Saturday, walked calmly into the district attorney's office at 12:22 p. m. and gave himself up. He was accompanied by his attorney. His surrender came shortly after Clendenin J. Ryan, multi-millionaire civic reformer, claimed he had been offered the post of ambassador to France if he would drop his bitter political campaign against the administration of Mayor William O'Dwyer.

New York, March 14—(P)—Clendenin J. Ryan, multi-millionaire civic reformer, said today he had been offered the ambassadorship to France if he would "lay off" his bitter campaign against the administration of Mayor William O'Dwyer.

Ryan said the offer came from Benjamin Sonnenberg, public relations counselor. Sonnenberg acted on behalf of an unidentified ambassador, Ryan said. Sonnenberg promptly denied the statement. Ambassadors are appointed by the president, subject to senate confirmation.

Ryan made the assertion as he prepared to testify before the New York county (Manhattan) grand jury investigating a fantastic wire tapping plot against O'Dwyer and other high city officials. He was slated to appear before the grand jury at 2:30 p. m.

Meantime, District Attorney Frank S. Hogan announced that a key figure—ex-Detective Kenneth E. Ryan—sought in connection with the plot had promised through his attorney to surrender "within an hour."

The former city detective, no relation to Clendenin Ryan, escaped from City Hall Saturday after he had been questioned for hours by O'Dwyer and top police officials.

Clendenin Ryan has denied any connection with the wiretapping conspiracy, purportedly designed to eavesdrop on the presidential phone calls of city officials.

The grand jury subpoenaed Ryan last night. He is a one-time aide to the late Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia, and motivating figure in a budding fusion movement to defeat O'Dwyer should the mayor seek re-election next fall.

Ryan said he was called to set 11 a. m. today as a deadline for Kenneth Ryan to appear at the prosecutor's office. Hogan said earlier that if the ex-detective did not appear by that hour, he would ask the grand jury to indict him on a charge of fleeing the custody of police while he was a suspect.

Hundreds of police have searched for the former detective since he escaped Saturday after allegedly talking freely about participating in a conspiracy to tap the telephones of Mayor O'Dwyer and other high city officials.

Kenneth Ryan, 45, slipped out of a city hall window during a lull in hours of questioning by the mayor and ranking police officials.

Warning Is Issued By U. N. Mediator

Rhodes, March 14—(P)—Dr. Ralph J. Bunche warned Israel and Trans-Jordan today that military activities in the Agaba area, whether actual fighting takes place or not, are violations of the United Nations truce in Palestine.

Dr. Bunche, the acting U. N. mediator for Palestine, delivered his viewpoint to Trans-Jordan and Israeli armistice delegations here and instructed them to forward it at once to their governments.

Agaba is a Trans-Jordan town on a Red Sea gulf near the Palestine border.

The warning was issued after preliminary reports of military movements in the southern Negev desert had been received and also one of an engagement between the Trans-Jordan Arab Legion and Israeli forces some time before last week's cease fire agreement was signed here.

Bunche's findings, contained in a report this morning to the Security Council, said he had been receiving reports for the last 24 hours from observers on the spot. Due to poor communications, however, detailed reports are not yet available, he said.

Seize Wire-Tapping Equipment

Hoover Commission Advises Change In Selective Service

Washington, March 14—(P)—The Hoover commission recommended to congress today that the Selective Service system be placed in the Labor Department.

The commission proposed that several other agencies also be transferred to the Labor Department to build up that executive branch.

Headed by Former President Herbert Hoover, the commission is a bipartisan group asking congress to recommend improvements in the government's executive structure.

The commission's report on the Selective Service system was not unanimous.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who is vice chairman of the commission, dissented along with outgoing Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal and Carter M. Mansoor, former member of congress from Alabama.

All 12 members of the commission agreed that the Selective Service system should be headed by civilians—but the three dissenters said it should remain independent.

Forrestal speaking for Mansoor and himself said: "We feel that it would be a mistake to place within any of the agencies of the government which are charged by law to represent a particular interest or segment of the population."

The majority decided, however, that the manpower question was related to the labor department's function and the drafting of civilians for war should be handled there.

The commission deplored the stripping of labor department agencies by the 80th congress. It said the department should be (Turn to Page Two)

Marconi Society Anniversary Is Observed With A Banquet

The 32nd anniversary of the founding of the Guglielmo Marconi Society in this city was observed with a banquet attended by approximately 1500 members and guests at the Outing Club Sunday evening at which time a group of charter members of the organization were honored.

The menu, strictly Italian style, prepared and served in faultless manner by the hard-working committee which deserves much credit for the wonderful meal, consisted of the following:

Antipasto—Anchovies, solomi, cheese, peppers, olives, sliced carrots.

Salad—Lettuce, tomatoes, green peppers and onions.

Main dish—Macaroni, brazeili, meatballs.

Italian and English bread.

There was a brief program of introductions and short speeches after the dinner, with Lou Critelli, in his very capable manner, acting as master of ceremonies. Tom Meneo, new president of the society, was first presented, and he extended a welcome to the guests, charter members and others in attendance. Mr. Critelli then introduced a number of original charter members who organized the club in March, 1917, during which the following were presented: Peter Pullesse, Amadeo Musante, Joseph A. Scialise, Joseph Critelli, Phillip Cerra, Luigi Ricci, Frank J. Cerra, J. P. Font and Frank Cerando.

Among the guests who were introduced and spoke briefly were Father Alfred M. Bauer, St. Joseph's church; Father Edward Jacobs, Tidoute; District Attorney M. A. Kornreich, who was accompanied by Mrs. Kornreich; Ed Lowrey, of the Times-Mirror; David Potter, Radio Station WVAE; Dr. and Mrs. Julius Fino; Dr. and Mrs. Paul Fago.

After the introductions and speech-making the master of ceremonies presented several acts of a floor show to conclude a very entertaining evening. Miss Marconi (Turn to Page Two)

Boy's Life Depends Upon Watermelons

Asbury Park, N. J., March 14—(P)—Watermelons may save the life of three-year-old Roy Allen Hollaway.

Last night winter-scarce melons were rushed from scattered sections of the country to Pitkin Memorial Hospital in answer to an emergency police call.

Police Chief Roy Hollaway, the boy's father, said his son was stricken with an acute kidney condition and had to have the fruit as part of his treatment.

A relay of state police cars brought the first watermelon from a farmer in western New Jersey. A second was enroute by plane from Miami, Fla. Two more were being sent over by New York police from the home of a Brooklyn woman who heard of the emergency plea.

Chief Hollaway sent out the emergency call when doctors said only watermelons could check the child's rising fever.

69,000 RAILROAD WORKERS FURLOUGHED AS RESULT OF 14-DAY VOLUNTARY LAY OFF

BULLETIN
Washington, March 14—(P)—The senate interior committee today approved President Truman's nomination of James Boyd to be director of the Bureau of Mines. The two-week coal mining holiday that began today was called by John L. Lewis, head of the miners' union, to protest the union's opposition to selection of Boyd for the post. Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) announced the senate committee vote was 10 to 1. He said Senator Milliken (R-Colo.) cast the lone negative vote.

Pittsburgh, March 14—(P)—A miners' work stoppage today reduced the nation's output to a mere trickle.

It idled some 471,000 hard and soft coal miners east of the Mississippi. It hit the nation's coal-dependent industries by forcing cutbacks for some 60,000 railroad workers.

The diggers started a two-week voluntary lay off in answer to John L. Lewis' call for a memorial to dead and injured miners. The miners also are protesting appointment of Dr. James Boyd as director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

The idle miners normally work in these ten states: West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Illinois, Alabama, Ohio, Virginia, Tennessee, Indiana, and Maryland. Lewis' order for a work stoppage exempted about 32,000 UMW miners in these states: Wyoming, Colorado, Montana, Utah, Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Washington, Kansas and Missouri.

The western states produce only a trickle of the nation's soft coal. Pennsylvania produces virtually all the anthracite mined in the United States and ranks second after West Virginia as a soft coal producer.

The scene at a captive coal mine, owned by the U. S. Steel Corp. in western Pennsylvania, was typical. The siren at the National No. 1 mine of H. C. Frick Coal Co., U. S. Steel subsidiary, blew the work call as usual at 6:40 a. m. But it was a mournful wail which went unanswered.

The mining village overlooking the works twinkled with lights.

Washington, March 14—(P)—The number of jobless rose to about 3,700,000 today as the result of the coal mine shutdown.

The estimate is based on the government report last Friday that 3,200,000 were idle then.

The two-week mine holiday starting today idled 471,000 and affected railroads laid off 69,425. This pushed the total to 3,740,425.

But this only signified the diggers early rising habits.

They stayed home.

There also was idleness at more than a dozen other Frick holdings in this rich western Pennsylvania production area. The big Robena mine near Uniontown, reputedly the nation's largest single producing mine, was idle.

The collective production of the Frick mines has been estimated at about 30,000 tons per day.

Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., fourth largest steel producer in the nation, also expected no work. Small commercial mines sprinkled through this area were idle.

The miners may find time hanging heavily on their hands. In other years such holidays came later in the season when the men could do spring gardening, go fishing, or to the baseball parks. But it was too cold today to much more than sit by the fire, fed with coal they have refused to dig for two weeks.

Lewis, 69-year-old leader of the United Mine Workers, last Friday ordered the pits closed down from today until March 28. He said it would be a memorial to the miners killed or injured last year. And, he continued, it would be the miners' protest against President Truman's nomination of Dr. James Boyd (Turn to Page Two)

Red Cross Fund Campaign Is Still Short Of Goal

Warren county's all important Red Cross Campaign crawled about 10% closer to its ultimate goal through Saturday's receipts. The total as of noon Saturday was reported as $10,238.65.

Four days last week show the following receipts:

March 9.....	$6,461.64
March 10.....	2,120.50
March 11.....	898.51
March 12.....	752.00
Total.....	$10,238.65

This is only 73.2% of the total which it was hoped would be reached last week. The drive officially opened on March 7th. It will continue through this week or until the total has been adequately reached.

Commenting on the many gifts of single dollars that have been received in the campaign to date one of the Red Cross workers ruefully remarked that it costs the Red Cross 10c in postage alone for each dollar gift; a 3c stamp to mail out the pledge card; 4c postage for the "free" return envelope and another 3c stamp to mail back the recipient's Red Cross lapel pin and receipt.

And, far too few of these Red Cross pins are being seen on the streets. One apparent reason is that only some 964 individuals have contributed to the campaign to date. This is far too small a total for the 8,800 letters of solicitation that were mailed.

However directors of the Red Cross are still confident that Warren County folks will not fail to adequately support the campaign. A large amount of replies is expected over the week end and perhaps Monday night's report will show Warren folks are awake to the needs of their Red Cross; both locally and nationally.

Glass was arrested by State Police on a charge of making an improper pass, and was fined $10 and costs when arraigned before Justice of the Peace J. R. Lodge in Tidouit.

State Senate Braces Itself For a Democratic Filibuster

(From Page One)
They are acted upon. Over the years, that rule usually is disregarded to save time. A bill is called up, a clerk reads the first few words of it. But any senator may call for a full reading at any time. That would slow up procedure to a creep since many of the bills contain thousands of words. A few of them are hundreds of printed pages long.

The senate already has rejected a Democratic request for a hearing of the soft drink tax.

County Soil Conservation Group Meets

At a meeting of the directors of the Warren County Soil Conservation District held last week at the Court House, the board approved plans for improvements on the seven following farms: Harry A. Ludwick, Myron Ludwick, George A. Rapp, Lars O. Larson and Nels Carlson, all of Farmington township; E. C. Miller, Conewango township; and Albert Sutton, Freehold township.

Stanley W. Laurence, chairman of the district, and Harold W. Geiger, farm planner for the district, reported that soil conservation farm plans have been completed for 4559 acres covering 30 farms in Warren county to date, with several more plans in various stages of completion. Mr. Geiger also reported that due to the favorable winter weather, field work has been going on during February in open drainage ditching, diversion and drainage terracing and contour trip cropping. A power "back hoe" shovel has been in operation on a drainage project on the Frank L. Dodd farm near Columbus for some time. Pasture leveling, brush and stone removal have occupied the work of the district operated bulldozer during the winter months.

The directors discussed methods of handling the routing of the various pieces of equipment from farm to farm, and also talked about tree and wildlife shrub seedlings which will be furnished to district farmer members this spring. Plans were made to pick up the seedlings at various nurseries just prior to the planting season.

Ralph W. Hunter, of the Soil Conservation Service, reported to the directors on the meeting held in the Court House by the Service during the week of March 1. At this meeting, a technical guide was prepared covering all the phases of the program to be used by the Service personnel in assisting the local district. Mr. Hunter spoke about the excellent cooperation from county agricultural agencies in helping to prepare the information included in the guide.

A. Scallie, co-chairman; Tony Brindis, Pete Massa, James Valone, Louis Rizzardi, Sam Berardi and Sam Falvo.

The event will go down in the records of the society as one of the highlights of the long and interesting history of the organization.

69,000 Railroad Workers Furloughed as Result Of 14-day Voluntary Lay Off

Boyd as director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines. Dr. Boyd's appointment awaits senate ratification.

In Washington, Senator Byrd (D-Va.) called on the senate to "promptly confirm" Dr. Boyd's appointment "as a reply" to the mine shutdown.

The first effects of the work stoppage came in the railroad industry. Eleven railroads furloughed 67,425 workers. They're employed by railroads who get a big chunk of their freight revenue from hauling coal.

Steel industries will not be hit immediately. They have large supplies of coal above ground. The national coal stockpile totals an estimated 70,000,000 tons. That's the most coal above ground in any spring since 1942. It's good for about 45 days.

"Headin' Hollywood" To Give Tuesday Matinee For Pupils

Costumed Chorus Girls to Appear in "Headin' Hollywood"

A big students matinee of "Headin' Hollywood", the big Optimist Club show, will be played tomorrow, Tuesday afternoon, in the High School auditorium at 3:30 o'clock. If students have not already purchased tickets they may do so at the doors, which will open at 3:00 p. m. for the sale of tickets.

The Hollywood motif will be ably displayed in the show by The Hollywood Gaieties who will be costumed as pictured herewith. Warren girls playing the roles of Hollywood Gaieties will be Patricia Bloomquist, Jeannine Turner, Donna Lane, Patty McFarland, Audrey Kiernan, Mary Turner, Minnie Bonavita, and Marilyn Carlson.

Also adding much grace to the Hollywood scene will be the Hollywood Debutantes. Leading the debutantes in the dance will be Nula Cheronis, and Joe Guilfré, leading man of the show.

Playing the role of debutantes will be Patricia Clark, Audrey Kiernan, Rosemary Prigent, Joan Kondak, Janet Boylan, Jeanne Sadler, Theresa Sheetz, Marilyn Dietsch, Joanne Erickson, Mable Morse, Alyce Swanson, Anita Dickerson, Mary Tassone, Sandra Mavrellis, Jo Ann Hickey, Nancy Geradimos, Gail Bevevino, Barbara McClellan, Loretta Cohan, and Lorna Morris.

"Headin' Hollywood" will also play both Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week at 8:15 in the High School auditorium. Doors will open for the sale of tickets each evening at 7:30 o'clock. All profits from the show will be utilized by the Warren Optimist Club for the benefit of the underprivileged boys work of the club.

Due to a misunderstanding, the previous meeting of the group was never reported to the paper. At that time, members were entertained by a talk on various kinds of insurance, given by Merle Schweitzer, and with several barbershop quartet tunes furnished by the Four Sharps of Rhythm, Jim Redley, Elwyn Babcock, Bill Vesco and Jim Jack. Their program included one novelty number which was composed by Babcock.

"Community Betterment" was the principal topic to come before the regular meeting of Pleasant Township Grange, held at the Grange hall and largely attended.

Two years ago, the Grange presented a public entertainment, "Fun For You," in the high school auditorium, for the purpose of raising monies for some form of community betterment.

Now, the Grange feels that the need for a better community house indicates this is the first step to be taken. Consequently, it will build an addition at the rear of the hall for installation of a modern kitchen, a project which will benefit all the community groups which have occasion to make use of the hall.

Another topic up for discussion at this month's meeting was "How Can the Grange Help the Teenagers in Pleasant Township?" Anyone having ideas was asked to call the Grange master, Bernard Brackett, or the lecturer, Raymah Akeley.

The lecturer conducted a questionnaire on what members would like during the year in the way of programs and the evening was concluded with a tureen lunch served by Gladys Schwab and Madeline Kiser.

Dragonette Is Real Credit To The Staff

Nancy Whipple is editor of the latest issue of the High School Dragonette to put in an appearance and its six pages are a genuine credit to the production staff, the new writing class.

Timely front page articles deal with the Dramatic Club's Evening of Plays and the winners in the "Why Democracy Works" essay contest, sponsored by the Warren Lodge of Elks.

Editorially speaking, the new issue offers its congratulations on the Get Acquainted Week recently sponsored by Student Council; considers the value of legibility and neatness in handwriting in the business world; discusses school assemblies, and suggests that the little "name cards" which helped students to know each other better during Get Acquainted Week, be used at the very beginning of school in September each year.

Other news is varied and interesting, covering the motor fleet supervision classes being held at the United Reformatory Company office; the Stenographers' club broadcast; activities of the Beaty Rifle Club; cancellation of the "Julius Caesar" movie scheduled April 7; the German Club's CARE packages; Junior Red Cross; NROTC results; Hi-Y events; Atlantic Refining Company's driver tests; orchestra's string section party; sports of all kinds; senior sayings; an hour or roll of 152 names, and a column of personals.

Each delinquent taxpayer will be called into the collection office in the Federal building at Erie and given an opportunity to pay the delinquent amounts while those failing to do so will have their wages attached.

TRUCK ACCIDENT

Flasher light warning signals at the Glade bridge crossing were put out of service about 1 o'clock Sunday morning when a new Red truck which was hauling another truck chassis through Warren and operated by Harold Eystone, of Lansing, Michigan, missed the curve and struck the signal posts. Eystone told police he was blinded by the lights of a parked vehicle which was on the wrong side of the road as he approached the crossing. Damage to the two trucks is estimated at $200. The signals are being repaired and a watchman is being provided by the Pennsylvania railroad until the repairs are completed.

FIRE AT OIL CITY

A three-story frame hotel in Oil City was destroyed Friday by a fire which damaged another building. Firemen helped at least 10 persons to safety but no one was injured. Swept by the early morning blaze was the Antler Hotel or Seneca street. An adjoining building housing an Army surplus store was damaged. Unofficial estimates of the damage ran as high as $65,000. The cause of the fire was not determined but firemen said the blaze apparently started in a dry cleaning establishment on the hotel's first floor. Only portions of the walls of the 23-room hotel were left standing and firemen said those runs probably would be pulled down.

Rain falls only once in about 30 years on long stretches along the coast of Chile.

CALM REACTION TO ARRESTS

The arrest of Judith Coplon and Valentin Gubitchev on espionage charges has seemed to excite people a lot less than the Whittaker Chambers and Elizabeth Bentley investigations. The more recent story is big, of course. But it hasn't produced the talk and headlines—to say nothing of the radio gags—that Mr. Chambers and his pumpkin did. James Thrasher, in an editorial written for NEA Service says, We don't know why. Maybe it is because the announcement came from the Justice Department, which pitches its pronouncements in a lower key than the House Un-American Activities Committee does. Or maybe the side attractions in the earlier investigations—conflicting stories, perjury indictments, libel suits, the running fight between the house committee and the attorney general, and Mr. Truman's "red herring" charge—were what caught the public interest.

Whatever the reason, the new case seems to have received a generally calm reaction. We were interested to note that even some members of our own profession were handling it more soberly. On the day that the story broke, two New York newspapers described Miss Coplon as "plain."

Perhaps a movie producer would never stop Miss Coplon on the street and offer her a screen test. But her pictures don't show her to be particularly plain. It must be that the New York press was proceeding cautiously, after its experience with Miss Bentley. Some of the early stories described her as a glamorous blonde. But that was before the photographers and their pictures came along.

The difference in the amount of interest in the two stories certainly does not reflect their comparative importance. The Chambers and Bentley testimony seems like faded memoirs in the light of what has happened since the period that their testimony covered.

Ten or a dozen years ago the United States thought it was on fairly good terms with Russia. Communism in this country seemed mainly a parlor preoccupation of irritating intellectuals. And many of those intellectuals could not have understood the full, literal and treacherous meaning of "come the revolution." Some good patriotic Americans gave an occasional five dollars to help Loyalist Spain in those days. Communism, to most of us, seemed more of a bore than a menace.

It was in that atmosphere that the State Department pinkos operated. Some of them, too, were probably more stupid than sinister, although stupidity does not excuse disloyalty. But there can be no plea of ignorance today. Any government employee who procures information for a Soviet agent knows precisely what he or she is doing, and why.

The case against Miss Coplon and Gubitchev, while not tried and proved, looks strong. Certainly it is much stronger and clearer than anything that came out of the Chambers-Bentley disclosures. The charges that it contains—even the charge that Russia uses the UN as a screen for spying—are not surprising. And it is more gratifying than surprising to know that the FBI was on its toes in this matter.

The authorities are getting down to brass tacks in this case, which brings the most serious accusations yet made under the government's loyalty investigation program. It is not prejudging the case to say that the FBI has done a good job. Its quiet, thorough, untiring efforts offer a much better means of dealing with the Communist menace than noisy, spotlighted congressional investigations.

THE FEAST OF PURIM

This is the time of the annual observance of the Feast of Purim. It commemorates the deliverance of the Hebrews from their enemies in the time of the Medes and Persians. Haman, like some of his modern counterparts, planned to destroy the descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Haman was particularly detestful of Mordecai, and had gallows constructed for him. The law was proclaimed ordering the massacre of the Jews, and things looked very black for them. The story of the deliverance that God wrought on their behalf is found in the book of Esther. Read it for yourself, and understand the origin of Purim, and the courage of Hadassah, or Esther.

It is to be found a very interesting story of God's working on behalf of these Jews, captives in a foreign land, but nevertheless heirs of the covenant made to Abraham. Yet in this small book of the Old Testament, the name of God is not mentioned. That God is working in every chapter is evident, and that such a marvelous deliverance was engineered by God is plain.

Many times the cares and troubles of life beset us. We do not see the hand of God working on our behalf. The heavens seem silent and we wonder if our prayers are reaching the ears of the Heavenly Father. God has not forsaken us, and He has not forgotten us. He is working, and many times in ways which are hard for us to understand. Because we see no outward mention of God does not give cause to deny His activity. The Psalmist of old sang:

"Behold, He that keepeth Israel Will neither slumber nor sleep; The Lord is thy keeper."

Here And There

An item carried in the Evening Times of forty years ago today, March 13, 1909, reminds of one of the outstanding business establishments that flourished in Warren at that time in a periodical known as Today's Magazine. Says the article: "Yesterday afternoon a number of the local bankers and business men visited the plant of Today's Magazine on Union street and were given an eye opener as to the value of this institution to this city. Few can imagine the size of the plant or the work done there until after a personal visit, and the men yesterday were astounded at what they saw. The system used, number of employees and other features impressed all who made the tour of the plant and all came away from the publishing house determined boosters for the publication. The hive of industry is a sure cure for the blues, and every person in Warren should know what is being accomplished there."

Potpourri: Many residents of the Warren area who have cottages along Chautauqua lake, or frequent that popular fishing resort, will regret to learn of the death of John F. Carlson, of Shore Acres, Jack, as he was familiarly known by thousands of fishermen and women, died several weeks ago in Florida. . . . Corp. James Elythe, formerly located at the Warren barracks of the state police, and more recently at Lawrence Park, is serving temporarily until April first at the Corry station during the absence of Corp. Ted Hubley, who is vacationing in Florida. . . . More than $2,000 was realized from the benefit show conducted by the Kane firemen in that community recently when they presented a "Parade of Harmony" show featuring barbershop choruses and quartets including a large group of singers from Warren. . . . And that reminds us, from his remarks on the aid Saturday morning, LeRoy Schneek, of the Warren Radio Station, who participated in the Kane show, was performing in a similar manner at Westfield, N. Y., Friday evening. . . . More than 400 persons attended a concert presented Thursday evening by the Corry Elks' Male Chorus at the Lakewood Central High school. . . . Fronts totaled in excess of $400 for the benefit concert. The Swiss music of the Corry Bershoppers were on the program. . . . Between 500 and 600 telephone subscribers were without service in the Jamestown area as a result of Thursday's eight inch snow fall which harassed traffic and had county and city highway crews working at full force. . . . We have been receiving much publicity lately from a well known airline about their rapid service transporting Swedish and Danish people to their old homes abroad. Norwegians, too, as a matter of fact. The planes are all DC-6's and flights are made every day in the week. Some head for Copenhagen and others to Oslo. It's apparently only a matter of a few hours from this area to Sweden. . . . According to the Tidoute Press, the Norton Wood Products Co., during the past week, shipped two carloads of baseball bat billets to H. & B. Co., Louisville, Ky., and a car of handles to J. G. Rollins and Sons, New York City, for export to England. . . . Looks like a busy evening for some folks, what with the adjourned meeting of council at 7:30 o'clock, meeting at the Moose social rooms at 7:30 for all those persons interested in discussing a Fourth of July celebration for Warren this year, the Barbershoppers rehearsing at the YMCA, and a few other activities. . . . And now we are informed by the operator of the Thoma Sunoco station that a caterpillar was killed of crossing the road, the birds have disappeared and the flowers are under a blanket of snow. Tomorrow's the deadline to have that income tax return postmarked "Warren, Pa., March 15th." . . . Now the Pleasant township firemen are planning a carnival this summer. That will make five so far scheduled in the county—Youngs, Clarendon, Sheffield, Warren and Pleasant.

Record Shows Russian Shift Will Not Improve Relations

BY PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Before making any wild guesses about the meaning of the Russian Foreign Ministry shift from Molotov to Vishinsky, look back at the record.

Last November at the Paris United Nations meeting, Secretary of State George C. Marshall said that the Soviet Union was conducting a "propaganda peace offensive."

Hints of a peace offensive were not lacking. On Dec. 18 the Soviet political representative in Vienna declared Moscow would not oppose resumption of Austrian peace talks.

On Jan. 11 French Communist Deputy Marcel Cachin called for a Truman-Stalin meeting and denounced the view that the differing systems of the U. S. and the U. S. S. R. prevented collaboration. This sentiment was echoed by Italian Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti.

On Jan. 18 the Soviet Embassy Information Bulletin in Washington for the first time wished the American people a Happy New Year and hoped that a decisive step towards achievement of peace could be taken in 1949.

On Jan. 30 Premier Stalin answered Correspondent Kingsbury Smith's four questions, stating that the Soviet government "would be prepared to consider" a joint declaration with the United States, asserting that the two governments have no intention of resorting to war against each other.

It must be noted that all these moves save one—the Austrian treaty approach—were unofficial, indirect, under the table, and around the mulberry bush. There was never any direct note from the Russian government to the American government saying in effect, "Let's have peace. Let's sit down and talk this over."

Against this outline of leading events in the Russian peace offensive, there must be weighed the official acts of the world Communist leaders and of the Moscow and satellite governments. They belie in every instance any indication that the Russians want peace. Here is the record for the same period:

On Nov. 16 the Soviet government set up a separate city administration for its eastern zone in Berlin.

On Dec. 10 Russia and her satellites refused to ratify the United Nations Declaration on Human Rights.

On Dec. 27 Cardinal Mindszenty was arrested in Hungary. He was tried and found guilty of espionage and black market operations. On Feb. 8 he was sentenced to life imprisonment.

On Jan. 25 Russia announced a Council of Economic Mutual Assistance as the Communist opposition to the Marshall Plan.

On Feb. 1 Russia opposed Norway's joining the North Atlantic Pact. On Feb. 10 fifteen Bulgarian Evangelical ministers were arrested. On Feb. 18 Russia withdrew from the World Health Organization.

On Feb. 22 French Communist Secretary General Maurice Thorez declared that if France should be dragged into a war against the Soviet Union and if the Soviet army came to France, it could only be welcomed by the workers. Four days later in Italy, Togliatti uttered similar sentiments.

It is almost impossible for anyone to compare these two records and come to a conclusion that Russia really wants peace.

Any assumption that the naming of Andrei Y. Vishinsky as Russian Foreign Minister presages a change for the better is merely wishful thinking. Vishinsky is the ruthless prosecutor of the Russian purge trials. Vishinsky is the vitriolic, vengeful scourge of many a United Nations battle.

It was Vishinsky who steam-rolled through the Russian-dictated Danube River Agreement at Belgrade last August. It was Vishinsky who at that conference repeated the dogma he had first uttered at the United Nations General Assembly—that Russia would never submit any cases to the World Court, never settle any international disputes by judicial methods.

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

Warren is mourning the loss of Mrs. H. R. McCalmont, a pioneer in the community's musical and social development. Her father, A. Lawrence Foster, attained prominence as a statesman during the stirring days preceding and during the Civil War, being a member of the congress which authorized by the narrow margin of one vote the experimental Morse telegraph line which has developed into the elaborate communication system of today. Prized treasures of Mrs. McCalmont were special passes issued her father permitting travel through the Union lines during the first few weeks of the Civil War. Mrs. McCalmont spent her early childhood in Washington, where she had the privilege of meeting President Lincoln. She was a good pianist and an authority on Chopin. She was instrumental in organizing the Philomel Piano Club in 1891. . . . Now that the American Legion is settled in its new home, one of its first acts was to decide on an Easter egg hunt for the children of Warren. . . . Some real old-time entertainment will feature the play to be given by the members of the Starbrick PTA. The play selected was "Ye Village Skewl of Long Ago" and the cast of characters include G. R. McIntosh as the skewl master, and Charles H. Smith as the deacon.

Dr. Harold C. Warren, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has received a telegram from the Procter and Gamble company, informing him that his essay submitted in a recent contest, has been judged the best received and that he had been awarded a 1939 Buick and 1000 gallons of Texaco Fire Chief gasoline. . . . So far as could be determined, work at the high school and Glade township FWA projects was still at a standstill due to a strike of union plumbers. . . . A new group is being enrolled in the safe driving school, under the direction of Robert Jury, M. W. Russell and Ned Henry. . . . The recreation committee of the Warren County Girl Scout Council held an important meeting at the home of the chairman, Mrs. H. R. Lewis, Conewango avenue, and completed plans for the dinner and social time next week. Members of this committee, besides Mrs. Lewis, are Mrs. Jordan Overturf, Mrs. William Crossett, Mrs. A. M. Lopez, Jr., and Mrs. B. E. Koebler. The Fox club enjoyed a dinner at the Y, with a business session following. . . . Miss Rosamond Delong, Second avenue, will entertain members of the Pi Mu Society at her home. . . . Chief Cornplanter Post will observe the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the American Legion in Paris, by entertaining for all sons and daughters of Legionnaires at the Legion Home.

Key Oil Firms Post Market Price Cuts

Twelve key oil firms throughout the Pennsylvania oil field Friday posted market price reductions in line with the cuts announced Thursday night by the Joseph Seep Agency of the South Penn Oil Company.

The Seep Agency, largest buyer of Pennsylvania grade crude, posted a 25-cent slash in the Bradford and Allegheny districts bringing the market down to $8.75 a barrel, effective Friday morning. Grades produced south of Butler, were lowered to $1 and $2 cents a barrel.

One area refiner, who declined use of his name, said he hoped "we are fast approaching the bottom of the market."

Commenting on the weakened petroleum market, he said: "The price reductions stem primarily from a sharp reduction in the export demand for refined products in the past nine months. The filling of domestic pipe lines with lubricating oils has boosted the supply past the demand. The whole issue is purely a matter of getting a balance between supply and demand."

Further reductions in the market were predicted by another district refiner, who also asked that his name be withheld. He forecast a return to the three dollar market within the next few months and cuts in the price of oil produced in other fields across the nation soon.

Pennsylvania oil firms posting reductions Friday include the Kendall Refining Co. and Tide Water Co., Ltd. both of Bradford; the United Refining Co., of Warren; the Wolf's Head Oil Refining Corp.; Quaker State Oil Refining Corp.; the Brundred Oil Corp.; and the Pennzoil Co., all of Oil City; Cities Service, Titusville; the Valvoline Pipe Lines, Freedom, Pa.; the Pennsylvania Oil Refining Co., Kears City, Pa.; the Elk Refining Co., Charleston, W. Va., and the Waverly Oil Works Co., Pittsburgh.

Brotherhood At St. Paul's To Entertain

The March meeting of St. Paul's Brotherhood was held at the church, with Rev. Nore Gustafson conducting the devotions and tentative plans made to entertain the Sheffield Brotherhood at the April meeting and members of the Falconer, N. Y. Brotherhood in May.

A colorful program was presented by G. M. Borg in the form of colored still and moving pictures taken during his recent trip to the southland and to Cuba. In addition to the profuse and gorgeous display of vegetation in Florida, seen in these pictures, it was interesting to experience the thrill of water sports in Florida and the happiness of Havana children and their elders as they celebrated a holiday honoring their national heroes. The abundant display of colorful flowers on such an occasion was astounding.

Mr. Borg, assisted by his son, Everett, also presented black and white talking film of Florida and one of California. One of these pictured the Bok singing tower and park, dedicated to Edward Bok's words: "To make our world better and more beautiful for having lived in it."

A social hour and the serving of refreshments concluded a pleasant and interesting evening. Hosts were Clemens Anderson, Elmer Anderson, Ernest Anderson, J. F. Anderson, Everett Borg, G. M. Borg, Elmer Bloom and Leo Bushey.

Junior Class At Youngsville To Give Play

Youngsville, Mar. 14.—The junior class of Youngsville High School is hard at work on the annual class play which will be given in the high school auditorium on Thursday and Friday evenings, April 7-8.

There are 11 characters in the play, which has no lead, is entitled "The Galloping Ghosts" and is a mystery-comedy. Although there is no leading character, much care has been taken in selecting a cast that will make this an all-star production.

Miss Marion Hyde, high school dramatics teacher, is coaching the play. The title role, also mystery-comedy was well given and thoroughly enjoyed early in the term and its production spoke well for Miss Hyde's ability as a capable director.

"Peace in the Heart" by Archibald Rutledge was recently presented to the Youngsville Library by Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Chase, of Tidewater, in memory of the late Charles Rapp. Another book new to the library is a novel of the first Crusade written by Laverne Goy.

Among the current best sellers now on the shelves are: "The Running of the Tide" by F. Forberg; "Catalina" by Maughan; "The Bib Fisherman"; Douglas; "Dinner at Antoine's"; Keys; "The Hearth and the Eagle" by Liebman; "The Plague and I" by McDonald; and "The Headless Angel" by Vicki Baum. Some of the above list are from the recent donation of about a hundred books made by Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Thompson.

Mrs. R. L. Mead has returned from St. Paul, Minn., where she was called by the death of a nephew. She made the trip by air.

The United States flag, according to the Library of Congress, may be flown almost anywhere 24 hours a day as long as it is for a patriotic purpose and the flag does not lose dignity.

Improvements In Tionesta Dam Are Listed By Gavin

Congressman Leon H. Gavin of Oil City has received detailed information regarding the improvements to be made at the Tionesta dam recreation area, including provision of water for public use near picnic areas and possible construction of a public sanitary building during the summer months.

The letter received by Rep. Gavin from Col. F. H. Falkner, district engineer of the army corps of engineers, follows:
"In compliance with your request of 25 Feb. 1949, I am listing the following information relative to the improvements to be made at Tionesta dam during the coming construction season.

"A domestic water treatment system is now being installed in the operation tower and the distribution lines are being extended to the public use area near the dam for the purpose of providing water for picnic groups and sightseers. In addition, contract drawings for a greatly needed public sanitary building are being completed and I expect to advertise for construction bids this spring. Landscaping, which has been deferred until after the completion of the access road paving and construction of a public parking area, will be continued and should the contractor for the public sanitary building finish his project in time, all landscaping should be completed in the fall.

"The area at the lower end of the discharge tunnel has become so popular with fishermen as a fishing ground and camping site that it has been deemed necessary to enlarge the area and to furnish more picnic tables, fireplaces and better sanitation facilities. It is also planned to establish a boat rental concession in the reservoir to provide better boating for the public.

"Since the commonwealth of Pennsylvania has decided not to participate in the recreational development of the reservoir at the present time, it has become necessary for this office to complete preparation of the master recreational plan for the reservoir without the assistance of the state planners. While the facilities being planned will revolve chiefly around fishing and hunting, adequate day-use facilities such as picnic grounds, trailer and tent camping grounds, access roads, hiking trails, over-looks, and boat and food concessions will be provided for. The plan is tentatively scheduled for completion during July of the present year and should approval from higher authority and sufficient funds be forthcoming, construction of such facilities as the government will provide could be started."

Gavin Questions Draft Board Funds

Washington—(AP) — Declaring that selective service is at the moment a sleeping duck, Rep. Gavin, (R-Pa.) last week questioned the appropriation being asked for it in the next fiscal year.

Gavin, a member of the Armed Services Committee, told the House he was given to understand the agency's request is for $16,700,000.

This, said Gavin, would provide 2,905 full-time jobs and 1,515 man-years of part-time employment.

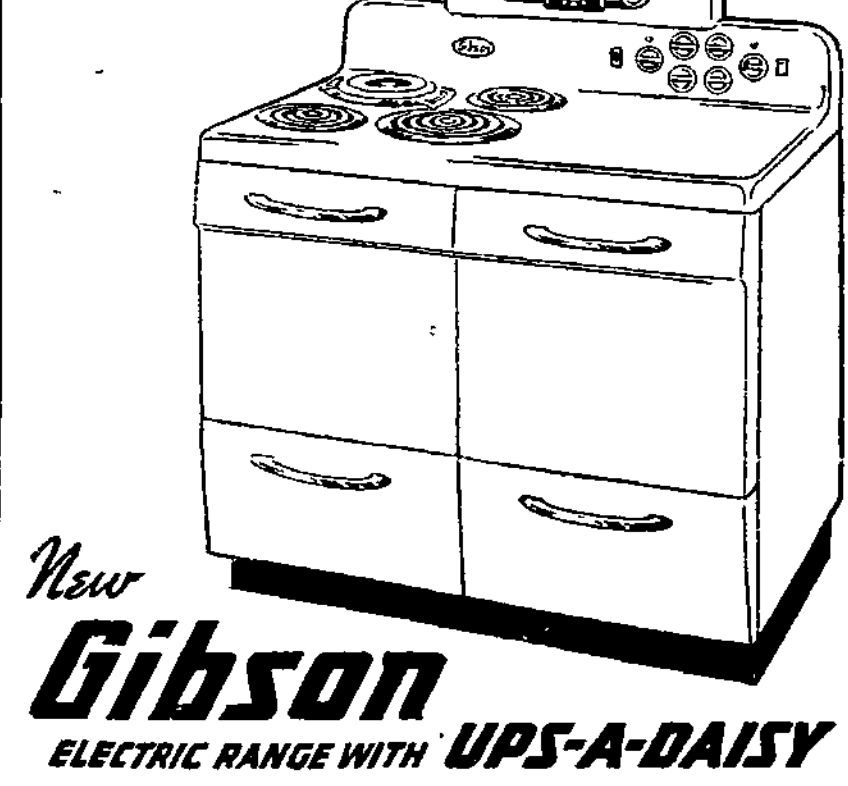

Since the agency isn't inducing anyone, Gavin asked, why all the employees?

"I can't see any reason why an appropriation should be made other than to keep a standby, skeletonized force in existence," he said. "Certainly here is one opportunity where we can save several millions of American taxpayers' dollars."

The forerunner of the Stars and Stripes was the Grand Union Flag. To represent the unity of the 13 Colonies and their hope that reconciliation with Britain still was possible, this banner had on it the British jack and 13 red and white stripes.

Chapter 28

RIVERS looked about the room, still groggy from sleep and the effects of the drug which had induced it, his mind confused by this bewildering news. Louisiana American! That was startling, but welcome.

Right now, his own predicament required his full attention. This was not a big room, but it had a lofty ceiling, and there was an odd feature about it—as though it might have been expressly designed by Don Fernando for some such event as now was impending.

Twice as high as a man's head was a platform built out from the wall, a square about six feet in size, with a railing about it and a door behind. Now the unpleasantly smiling face of Martinez peered over, while he gestured with a pistol.

"Hah! It is the Senor Rivers! And so we meet again! Allow me to wish you the best of luck, Senor, with the blade—for it will then give me much pleasure to finish you with the bullet!"

The main door opened to admit Bashan, who came swaggering in, carrying his unsheathed sword. He paused, eyes fixed on Rivers, triumph burning in them.

"Ah!" he exclaimed. "This time, it will be to the finish—your finish! Are you ready?"

Not waiting for an answer, he advanced, big blade at the ready. There was nothing to do but meet him. His wound appeared to be so far healed as not to trouble him.

It was the stimulus which Rivers needed. His head was clearing. The room was windowless, the light coming down from above. And down here was only the one door—now locked. To make doubly sure, Martinez was above them, with a cocked pistol in his hand.

"It will be a pleasure, with so excellent a swordsman as yourself," Rivers agreed, and the mocking smile was on his lips. "You have heard the news from Don Fernando, I suppose?"

"News? What news?" Bashan demanded suspiciously, but without a slackening of his own attack. He was fighting warily today, remembering the mettle of his opponent, but with a calculated ferocity which was hard to check. "You'll not distract me from the business in hand by chattering," he added grimly.

"But I thought you would like to know the news," Rivers suggested, speaking in English, knowing that Martinez could not understand it. "In the first place, Louisiana has been sold to America. The blockade no longer holds."

Bashan did not miss a stroke. His face was angry, set and puzzled with concentration. Then he exploded.

"You lie! It is a coward's way, to try and distract me with such a tale! Such a thing is impossible!"

"It's also impossible, as Don Fernando figures it, for either of us to leave this room alive! He expects one of us to kill the other. As he told me. But you'll notice, take your time, so as not to lose any advantage—that there are no windows, and only the one door. And that is locked behind you!"

Bashan's eyes darted suspiciously, with the instinctive fear of a trapped animal. Rage washed across his face as he saw that it was so, and his gaze, lifting, encountered the avid gleam in the eyes of Martinez, the cocked pistol. He wavered and fell back, and in that moment Rivers could have run him through.

"What's this?" Bashan growled. "I don't like it."

is posted there with a pistol to murder the survivor. He thinks he has us trapped. Do you think that he has any more love for you than for me? He intends now that the French will not move to stop him or to help you Montforts, to escape down river before the news is known, and share with no one!"

This time, Bashan did not lose a stroke. His heavy brows knit thoughtfully, but he was fighting mechanically, no longer with zest. Martinez peered at them suspiciously.

"The devil!" Bashan swore, and lurched backward. His free hand brought up against the door behind, as if to fend himself away, and he gave a savage twist at the knob. His face was set as he parried again.

"It is as you say," he agreed, and his glance ranged upward, dropped. "I suppose we live only so long as we go on trying to slay each other, eh?"

"Or until he decides that we're faking," Rivers agreed. "Make it real, man!"

For the next minute or so Bashan gave a satisfying performance, but his brows remained twisted in thought. Then he spoke.

"Our arsenal can wait," he decided. "It is better that we get out of this, first. I have no liking for being a cat's-paw."

Lenten Recital At Conservatory Is Much Enjoyed

In spite of the inclement weather and counter attractions, a large and appreciative audience was present for the special voice recital given by five students of the Warren Conservatory of Music.

Jeannine Williams, of Youngsville, opened the recital and was undoubtedly at her best in the rendition of "When Spring Comes Back to Vienna," a number which displayed to advantage her pure lyric voice of mezzo soprano quality.

Richard Smith displayed a beautiful tenor voice, and sang with a depth of feeling seldom heard in one so young. Especially enjoyable was his singing of "Galway Bay."

Frances Carlson sang "Ombra mai fu," "Virgins' Lullaby" and the beautiful spiritual, "Were You There?" Since last heard in public recital, Miss Carlson's voice showed excellent progress and displayed a uniform deep contralto quality.

Connie Dey, soprano, continued the recital by singing two selections by Oley Speaks, "The Prayer Perfect" and "The Bells of Youth." Miss Dey has not been heard in public recitals for some seasons and several Conservatory friends expressed pleasure in hearing her again. Miss Dey has a wealth of power at her command and handled her fine soprano voice with great ease.

Richard Mullhaupt, guest pianist, delighted his audience with his usual brilliant style in three numbers, "Sonata in D Minor" by Campbell, "Malaguena" and "Githuerras" by Lecuona.

Jane Hovey was next heard in excerpts from the opera "Carmen," a role she has learned this season. Miss Hovey, a post-graduate student, has a voice of great flexibility and real beauty and in this recital proved a delightful Carmen, singing with confidence and understanding this difficult operatic work.

Lola Sheller and Donald Abert, scheduled on the program, were unable to appear.

The evening was concluded with selections from "The Messiah," sung by Constance Dey, Frances Carlson and Byron Swanson.

Miss Adelaide Swanson, accompanist, provided her usual artistic and sympathetic background for each singer.

Doris A. Walker Becomes Bride Of Robert W. Wilson

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Walker, of Youngsville, announce the marriage of their daughter, Doris A. Walker, to Robert W. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Wilson, of Irvine, in a simple ceremony solemnized on February 19 in St. Joseph's rectory. Father Arthur Leon heard the vows at 1:30 p. m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractively attired in a suit of blue gabardine, with which she wore black accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Phyllis Walker, who wore a two-piece gray frock and corsage of pink carnations.

The mother of the bride chose a navy blue frock with white trim and had a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Wilson wore gray, with matching accessories, and a pink camellia corsage.

Fred Wilson was best man for his brother.

The reception followed at three o'clock at the National Forge club-house at Irvine, with 100 guests from Youngsville, Kane, Warren, Pittsburgh, Irvine and Clarendon. The bride's table was attractively appointed with white streamers and centered with a four-tier wedding cake decorated in white and green. Pink carnations were attractively arranged on the mantel.

The bride, graduate of Warren High School with the Class of 1945, is employed by Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., and the bridegroom, member of the Class of 1943 of Youngsville High School, is a National Forge employee.

Pre-nuptial affairs for the bride were given by her sister, Miss Phyllis; her aunt, Mrs. Carl Bright, and a cousin, Mrs. Paul Morris.

Khlar McDonald Weds Philadelphia Girl On March 5th

The Chapter House of Sigma Nu Fraternity at the University of Pennsylvania was the scene of a lovely wedding on Saturday, March 5, when Miss Helen O'Neill, of Philadelphia and formerly of Wilmington, N. C., became the bride of Khlar McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl McDonald, of Warren.

The vows were taken in a double ring ceremony read before an altar of spring flowers and vines by Dr. Kolb, chaplain of the university, and Rev. Brettle, who is minister of the Asbury Methodist church near the school.

The bride was attired in a blue-gray suit, with which she carried an arm bouquet of white roses and had a train of matching white rosebuds.

Attending the couple were the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Helen Hinds, as matron of honor, and Seville Funk, who is a senior at Penn., as best man for Mr. McDonald.

The room where the ceremony was performed was attractively decorated with spring flowers and blossoms and wedding music was provided by Andrew McCann, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" just prior to the reading of the service. His accompaniments were played by John Hackney, undergraduate chairman of the Mask and Wig Club.

As the newlyweds left the house, they passed beneath an arch of oars held by members of the school crew, of which Mr. McDonald is a member.

The bridal dinner was served in the Hamilton room of Hamilton Court in Philadelphia. Guests at the wedding were the bridegroom's parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Carl McDonald and Miss Jane McDonald, Warren; the bride's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. James Hinds; Russell "Rusty" Callow, crew coach, and his wife; two former shipmates of Mr. McDonald, Nathan Schloss, of Baltimore, Md., and Daniel Sternberg, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Wendig, Mrs. Virginia Muller; brothers of Sigma Nu, and classmates of Mr. McDonald.

The bridegroom is completing his last term at University of Pennsylvania before entering medical school at Temple and he and Mrs. McDonald will reside at 909 Clinton street, Philadelphia.

Dr. R. H. Robertson will not be in his office until March 28th.

Springtime Activities

Despite the snow and slush which has cluttered up the streets and sidewalks the past few days, springtime activities are in the air and nowhere is this more evident than in the glimpse we had of the High School Girls' Club calendar at the YWCA. Plans for this group's spring program are complete from now until the end of the school term and we find the following among the highlights: This evening—The regular meeting, followed by a program to be presented by the Hi-Y boys, dancing and refreshments. Saturday, March 19—Redecoration of Drag Inn, recreation room for girls at the YW. The building will be open all day for the girls to come in and help with the painting. Cocoa and cookies will be served by the teen-age committee. Monday, March 28—Alan Aquist, of LaVogue Beauty Salon, will speak on the care of hair and skin and explain what teen-agers can do for greater hair beauty.

Monday, April 4—Special reopening night at Drag Inn, with the hostess committee in charge. Monday, April 11—Club will attend church in a group to mark the first night of Holy Week. Friday, April 22—Spring dance. Monday, April 25—Mrs. A. A. Grant, of Sugar Grove, will speak on boy-girl relations.

Monday, May 2—Annual mother-daughter banquet. Monday, May 9—Election and installation of officers. Monday, May 23—Final meeting in the form of an outdoor supper and closing with a Friendship Circle.

Friday, March 4, brought to a close the basketball dances which have been sponsored by the Y-teens at the YW. These parties, held each Friday night that a home basketball game was being played, were well attended, with an average of 230 young people at each dance. The girls and the YW extend their thanks to the many who were willing to chaperone and helped to make the series so successful.

How Can Ambitious Wife Help Hubby Get Ahead? Here's How

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"HOW can a wife who is ambitious for her husband help him get ahead?" That's the problem a young wife asks me to discuss. Here is how a group of Canadian executives recently answered a similar question.

They said, in effect: ONE: Provide a home atmosphere of peace, with leisure for study. TWO: Handle money efficiently. THREE: Keep house neatly. FOUR: Be at least able to understand the vocabulary of your husband's work. FIVE: Be well-groomed. SIX: Be sure that your social manners are dignified. SEVEN: Be thoughtful in your relations to your husband's juniors.

As it stands that is a pretty good list. You'll notice that emphasis is placed on arranging evenings so that the husband has time for studying, rather than on leading a busy social life so that he is sure to meet "the right people."

Handling money efficiently will call for a great deal of wisdom on the wife's part, for it means much more than just being economical in small ways. Pinching pennies may or may not help a man to get ahead. But spending money where it will benefit the family most certainly will.

DON'T UNDERESTIMATE SOCIAL MANNERS

In studying the list, don't dismiss lightly the warning that your social manners should be dignified. Not every woman can impress the world with her exceptional brains, great beauty, or unforgettable charm. But every woman, regardless of her looks, her background or educational advantages can meet the world with quiet dignity. It may come as a surprise to some women to see that stress is placed on being considerate of the husband's juniors, rather than on making an effort to get on better footing with those above him. Such women have the mistaken notion that the way to help their husbands is to play up to the boss and the boss' wife, and never mind about the "unimportant" people the husband has already outdistanced. Often the husband must depend on the work of these juniors for the success of his own job.

One point not included in the list but which is also important is for a wife not to talk too much about her husband's business affairs. He may tell her everything that goes on at the office, discuss personalities with her, etc. But if she is smart she'll play dumb when those matters are being discussed by her husband's associates or their wives. The wife who follows all these rules may not have a successful husband. But if she doesn't it won't be because she held him back.

BPW Membership Has Many Reports And Makes Plans

About 45 members and guests were present for the monthly dinner-meeting of the Warren Business Club, held in the YWCA activities building.

Members of the finance committee were hostesses and had decorated the long table in a St. Patrick motif, with tall candles, large shamrocks, and a shamrock nosegay marking each place.

During the serving, Melba Olsen led group singing, accompanied at the piano by Dorothy Engstrom. After the dinner, Miss Olsen sang "Mother Machree" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and Mrs. Engstrom played several medleys of Irish songs on her accordion, all of which were much enjoyed.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Ruth Karr, who called on Viola Flowers and Minna Rieder for routine reports.

Ethel Baldensperger, corresponding secretary, read an invitation from the Youngsville Club to attend its annual birthday party on April 11th, reservations to be made with the president not later than April 5th; an invitation from the Otis Skinner on March 31st at 8:15 p. m.

Report of the recent rummage sale was made by Dorothy Baker, finance chairman, and a letter pertaining to House Bill No. 18 for proposed licensing of nurses was presented by Geraldine Ross, health and safety chairman.

A contribution to the Red Cross fund was voted and the following committee was elected to prepare a slate for election of officers for the coming year: Hazel Keller, chairman, Eunice Alexander and Geraldine Ross.

Members were reminded that reservations for the joint Zonta Club-BPW dinner on March 24th at YWCA must be made no later than March 21st.

"D" Day For The Kentucky Wildcats

New York, March 14—(AP)—Today is "D" day for Kentucky. The mighty Wildcats from the Blue Grass country begin their quest for the National Invitation Basketball title this afternoon against Loyola of Chicago. If their ambitious plan of attack succeeds, they'll be kings of both the NIT and NCAA within 12 days.

Winners of 29 out of 30 games during the regular season, the Wildcats are an even money favorite to win the invitation. Never before has the affair had such a short-notice character.

Two of Loyola's victories were over Bowling Green and Kentucky voted Bowling Green, which it beat by two points, the best team it played all year.

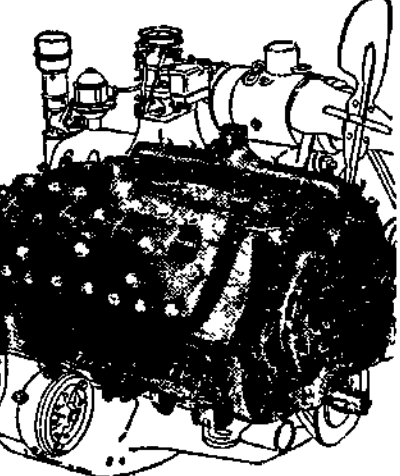

The Kentucky-Loyola battle is scheduled for 5:15 p. m. (EST). It's the windup of the matinee card which presents another Kentucky outfit—the powerful western Hilltoppers—against Bradley University in the first game at 3:30.

Big Martha's Vineyard Derby Entries Are Heading Upstream

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—It is coming on spring, and any day now the striped bass of the Jersey coast, Vineyard Sound and intermediate surfside points will be heading upstream to where the Carolina rivers turn fresh.

There they will spawn, and Carolinians, under the illusion the strippers are rockfish, will swarm the rivers and catch them by the haful.

This is a good thing, although maybe not for the strippers, for it weeds out the weak, unwary and decrepit. The survivors that finish the course and get back to the sea are automatically eligible for the Derby, which in this case has nothing to do with horses, Col. Matt Winn or "My Old Kentucky Home."

Already they are making winter book for this $20,000 event, although it does not take place until September.

This will be the fourth running of the Martha's Vineyard Striped Bass Derby, a 30-day affair run on an island off the southern coast of Massachusetts, which will have upwards of 2500 entries this year.

Some of the entries are islanders, who can be recognized by the fact they will willingly tell you where they just caught the bull striper they are carrying. But most of the Derby anglers are off-islanders; last year 2149 were in the running from 23 states, plus Canada, the Canal Zone and Hawaii. Various anglers' clubs from other states are talking about entering as a field this year and staging their own derbies within a derby.

FROM Cape Poge to Gay Head, from Tashmoo to Squibnocket, they will move in on the beaches with rod and reel, day and night, from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, the object being to hook the biggest striper and share in the purse. The two top winners collect a $4500 power boat apiece, and the condition book for the affair, which is entitled the Most Colossal Fishing Derby Ever Staged on the North Atlantic, lists $2000 worth of daily prizes.

B. F. Morton, the island steamboat man, wants it known, however, that the Derby contestants "are more interested in the fishing than the prizes."

Along with Tower Bates, the Derby chairman, and Carleton Staples, Martha's Vineyard Rod and Gun Club president, Morton has been helping out with the winter book at Sportsman's shows.

"There were 400 fish weighed in last Derby," he points out, "but nobody knows how many more those 2149 fishermen caught and didn't bother to weigh in."

What with 2500 entries expected (and that's the limit), plus the pre-Derby attack being launched by Larry Meyer, the strippers might just as well call it quits in the Carolinas this spring.

Larry, a starter in every Derby, to say nothing of king-for-a-day n one and a bass fisherman at the drop of a plug, come Derby or high water, is opening up a piscatorial service station for the summer trade.

Fund Started To Provide A Youth Canteen

Due to the great success of the "Sok Hop" sponsored by the Warren Phalanx Club at the YMCA Saturday night, a check for $50 was turned over to the "Y" board towards the building of a canteen for the youth of Warren.

The members will do a great deal of work on the project themselves, but materials will run quite high. In continuing their efforts to raise more funds the club is planning a bake sale for the first of April.

The Saturday night dance was well attended by Warren youth and the mixed swim accompanying the program brought in a new form of entertainment.

A meeting will be held at eight o'clock in the YMCA tonight. All members are asked to be on hand for discussion of the Easter Egg Hunt.

Kinzley, of Clarendon, collided at Pennsylvania avenue and Schanz street Saturday afternoon about 1:35 o'clock with an estimated $150 damage to each vehicle. According to the police report, Potter was proceeding east on the avenue and was watching cars to the rear preparatory to making a left turn into Schanz street. He told police he did not see the Kinzley car approaching. There were no injuries and no arrests.

BRUISED FOREHEAD
Ellen S. Dove, 507 West street, received a bruise on the right side of her forehead and about $100 damage to her car Saturday evening about 10:30 o'clock when the vehicle was involved in a collision at Pennsylvania avenue, west, and Poplar street, with another car operated by Robert L. ## Plan Changes In Office Of Prothonotary

The Warren-Forest County Bar Association, at its monthly dinner-meeting Friday night in the Blue and White restaurant, named a committee to work with the Warren County Commissioners in making proposed changes in the office of the prothonotary in the courthouse. The alterations will be made to protect the working space and additional storage space for older records which are now kept in vaults in the basement. Complete alterations of the prothonotary's office is to be recommended, the association reported.

District Attorney M. A. Kornreich, president of the association, presided at the meeting which was attended by 16 members, including M. A. Carringer and Richard Cable of Forest county.

A brief talk was given by Judge Allison D. Wade of special interest to bar members, and a nominating committee was appointed to make its report at the April meeting, at which time officers are to be elected.

New Aerial Ladder Truck In First Run
Warren's new $28,350 aerial-ladder truck, which was delivered here several weeks ago, made its inaugural run for a fire in the business district Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock, but its services were not needed.

The firemen were called when a fuel pump in an automobile caught fire while the machine was being repaired in the Parish garage at 8 Market street. Garage employees quickly extinguished the fire with foamite before it could spread. The damage was slight.

The machine was owned by Melvin Riggall of Clarendon. It was pointed out that business district fires, however slight, are considered "general alarms" and bring a full turnout of fire fighting equipment.
